

2 JULY 2017

Liverpool Golf Club

ROUND 11

Some got lost and ended up going down Dead End Streets but after a few turn arounds arrived on a cool morning where standing in the sun on the frosty grass didn't even help bring the circulation to the tips of the fingers, as Robert Rubbo ventured in the sunlight of the 9th fairway can attest to.

20 of us lined up on the 10th tee with Keith Johnson bringing along Ellen Van Dam, another lady from Bardwell Valley & hope she enjoyed our company, even after we aired some of dirty baggage on the tee & then at the Presentation, not generally a good first up impression, regardless of the occasion

We did hear Willy Wonka(sorry Wong) called to the 1st tee, and later we had to take the chocolates off Keith for last game's effort after much table thumping at the Presentation. Being on the committee does have it's rewards but it was suggested we soak our shirts at the end of the game to remove blood stains.

Our effort to speed up play reaped rewards this game, and thanks to all for adhering to some simple guidelines of Golf Etiquette although the Social Group that hit off before us were slow.

We all had troubles at times, I know my group's tally of lost balls in the dams and creeks was 22 balls lingering with the Titanic at the bottom of the sea. My round although at Liverpool had me getting a lot of practice on sand, while no-where near a beach. Peter Deady as his collection of balls diminished, bought out a titanium golf ball with get success & started to hole putts & hit straight down the fairway.

Maybe David DeMarchi needed one of these magic balls after walking off with only 4 s/b points with 7 wipes for the 1st nine holes he played, and then a chip on the 18th(our 9th) hit the clubhouse stairs on the fly, that was the last straw for Dave, so if you thought you had a bad day at the office, give a prayer for him.

Not one of us broke or reached Par, so it was a battle all day for all of us, with Robert Rubbo & Sid Pelcz 33 s/b points the best up front scores.

The winners of the Stableford Event was 1st Robert Rubbo 33 s/b points on c/b ,2nd Sid Pelcz also 33pts, 3rd Joanne Kinkead 31pts,4th Joe Oriti 30 pts, 5th Bill Fonseca 29 pts
