Beverly Park Golf Club

ROUND 7

A field of 24 hit off with fine weather which then clouded over and rained after the last group had reached the safety of the club house. Greg Parsell's game was nearly over after his 1st tee shot, as he skidded down the three steps onto his backside, leaving sprig marks on two steps as we inspected his dismount, getting perfect 10's from judges standing around the 10th tee.

There were some big hitting off the tee today, but to win a ball in the longest drive it has to land on the selected fairway as Pardeep's monster was easily surpassed by 50 metres by Robert Rubbo's shot but had the wrong landing surface on the next fairway. Gary Morrison tells me that he converted a 55 metre putt or was it 55 feet, while Keith Johnson had no trouble recording several 3 putts on his card with the sneaky little hole having a freakish twist at the cup on a lot of the greens.

While the majority battled with the course, Pardeep Singh scored 41 points and losing 3 off his handicap and finishing 3 shots ahead of Gary Morrison and 4 shots ahead of 3RD placed John Kottaridis. They were the only three to break par while the rest battled to be consistent and put a good back nine and front nine on the card. There were pars galore but the galore's were out numbered by the wipes on the cards. Peter Deady had two back-to-back pars but then fell away.

Our Captain George donned his special Chineman's straw hat at the Presentation today along with his comical announcements, awarding of vouchers & NTP balls with assistance from the barrel girl Joanne Kinkead.

Next game is next Sunday at Stonecutters Ridge G.C halfway between Blacktown and Richmond. It is a golf course designed by Greg Norman and there are a lot of bunkers, dams and a lot of walking if you don't take my advice and ride in a cart. There are strict dress regulations so a collared shirt and no cargo pants. Pardeep, you won't be able to wear black socks and to buy a pair at the pro shop will not be cheap, if you want to play. Remember Noa was sent home at New Brighton G.C after wearing Army cargo pants, a few years ago. Some may like to pool cars, ie Bill Fonseca and Peter Deady.

The results of the S/F of the Matchplay were held today with John Kottaridis winning over Sifa Nacagelivu 5/4 after giving Sifa twelve holes. Jim Urquhart went AWOL so Joe Belinha had a walk-over to set up the Final between John Kottaridis and Joe Belinha at Woolooware G.C. 3RD May.

Winners today were 1st Pardeep Singh 41 points, 2nd Gary Morrison 38 s/b points, 3rd John Kottaridis 37 pts, 4th Joe Belinha 35pts, 5th Robert Rubbo 34 pts. Scratch winner John Kottaridis 27 points, 79 strokes being 9 over par.
